Booking

Please book in advance to ensure you have time to meet your publication deadlines.

The initial edit will be booked for start on a Monday, and each of the editing stages that follow will begin on a Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday. If you complete your round of author revisions on Thursday or into the weekend, your next round of editing will begin the following Monday.

Your initial booking will solidify the start of the editorial project, which will prioritize you in my calendar for the 8-week period that follows (excluding any holidays that will be communicated in advance).

Projects that move beyond the 8-week period cannot be promised priority and may require extra time to be fit into my editorial calendar.
